Top Products for Rough Work

Cub Cadet has added chain saws to its product portfolio

Saarbrücken, September 17th, 2008

Cub Cadet, MTD's premium brand, has added a new group of machines to its product program – chain saws with combustion engines. Ambitious hobby or semi-professional gardeners will find a machine from the wide variety of high-performance, convenient and high-quality products for almost every use with wood.

More performance with safety

For the first time, Cub Cadet will be presenting its newly developed chainsaws for gardening and farming in Nürnberg at the GaLaBau 2008 from the 17th to the 20th of September (Hall 8/Stand 308). According to Cub Cadet, special emphasis was put on safety aspects, in addition to aspects of performance and convenience.

The manufacturer divides its chain saw program into three classes, which differ in their performance parameters – capacity and power – as well as in comfort. The beginner models in the compact class with 1,4 kW (1,9 hp)* and 1,8 kW (2,5 hp)* engines are suited for occasional use, for example, for cutting firewood or limbs from fruit trees. The semi-professional class, developed by Cub Cadet for use in gardening and landscaping, promises more performance (up to 2,65 kW (3,6 hp)) and comfort. The chain saws from the professional class are at the top of the performance scale (up to 3,2 kW (4,2 hp)) and are made for use in thinning, building with wood or maintaining large orchards.

Cub Cadet completes its chain saw program with a comprehensive assortment of accessories, spare parts and personal safety equipment, such as helmets with eye and ear protection, as well as cut protection clothing and shoes.

Cub Cadet chain saws are only available in specialist shops.

Cub Cadet is known as a manufacturer of a wide variety of top notch mowers and tractors characterized by elegant design and high manufacturing quality.

* Maximal engine power rating as per engine manufacturer. Engine power rating may vary depending on the engine's usage.

Cub Cadet – Future-oriented thinking

Cub Cadet, the premium brand from MTD, embodies the perfect synthesis of power, endurance, functionality and comfort - characteristics that inspire hobby gardeners and gardening pros. Cub Cadet tools don't make compromises in performance and quality and set the standards in their respective product categories.

When you choose a product from Cub Cadet, you select the very best for your gardening work and service from a competent specialty retailer.

About MTD Products AG
